Profile of the Federal Ombudsman of Pakistan

Mr. M. Salman Faruqui,
Nishan-e-Imtiaz

Mr. M. Salman Faruqui took oath of office as Wafaqi Mohtasib (Federal Ombudsman) in 2013. In appreciation of his dedicated and exemplary public service of over half a century, the Government of Pakistan conferred on him the highest public service award of Nishan-i-Imtiaz.

Mr. Faruqui earlier served as Secretary General to the President of Pakistan and Deputy Chairman Planning Commission (with the rank of Federal Minister). He was promoted as Secretary General to the Government with the rank of Minister of State in 1993, and held the positions of Ambassador-at-Large in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Secretary General.

Mr. Faruqui also served as Secretary to the Prime Minister and Secretary to the Government of Pakistan, in charge of several Ministries. Mr. Faruqui also headed several public sector corporations, including Pakistan Telecommunications Corporation, National Highway Authority, NESPAK, PEPAC Limited, and SGC.

He served in the Province of Sindh for 12 years as a Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Faruqui revolutionized telecommunications sector. He initiated Peshawar to Karachi Indus Highway and the first Motorway in Pakistan (M-2). In the Water & Power Sector, he initiated Ghazi Brotha project (the first hydel project after Tarbela Dam) and also implemented the renowned 1994 IPP policy which for the first time introduced private investment in power sector. Model Special Education Centres were built throughout the country for all disabilities. Experimental Green Channel system was introduced at Karachi Airport and schemes of Dry Ports and Export Processing Zones were initiated. Mini Port was commissioned at Gwadar and the scheme for deep seaport project there was launched. Private sector was introduced in the Ports and Shipping sectors and exclusive Terminals for container traffic, oil and exports were built.

Mr. Faruqui has a law degree and a postgraduate degree in Political Science and International Relations. He also has a postgraduate degree in Public Administration from the United States of America. He attended several specialised courses.
